Michaelis Reed Cutting Buckets.

The “GREEN” Alternative for your open earth, drains and waterway cutting needs!

This ecofriendly method cuts the reeds etc off below the waterline without disturbing the silt. This method ensures that there is no erosion and disturbance of the water quality.

As the Michaelis is cutting, it can also retrieve the cutting material which will leave a clean finished cut that has no remainder material/wastage left-over.

These Michaelis Reed Cutting Buckets come in a variant of sizes, ranging from 1.5m up to an enormous 5.0m! They are ordered to be mounted to your machine of choice.

Your Michaelis Advantages:

- Powerful due to drive gear
- Maintenance-free through central lubrication
- Low wear and tear
- Robust construction
- Individual adaption to your excavator

See a Michaelis in action!
