Michaelis Reed Cutting Buckets

The 'Green' alternative for your open earth, drains and waterway cutting needs.

This eco-friendly method cuts reeds from below the waterline, without disturbing the silt. This method ensures there is no erosion and no disturbance of the water quality.

With its 'bucket' design the Michaelis will retrieve the material whilst cutting to leave a clean finished cut, that does not leave any left over waste/material in the ditch/drain you are cutting in.

Advantages of a Michaelis Reed Cutting Bucket:

- Powerful Drive Gear
- Maintenance Free through Central Lubrication
- Low Wear and Tear
- Robust Construction
- Individual Adaptation to you excavator.
